RUSSIAN LOSS NEARLY 2 MILLION

PRINCESS SAYS FRANCE AND
CZAR DECIDED ON WAR
IN JULY

Berlin, (Via Wireless to Sayville), Jan. 21.—A letter said to have been written by a Russian princess, a relative of Emperor Nicholas, and published in the Munich Post, was given out in Berlin today by the Overseas news agency. The letter stated that in Russian court circles it is estimated that the war losses of the Russians up to the end of November amounted to 500,000 men killed and 1,300,000 wounded or incapacitated by illness. Many Russian aristocrats, the letter says, "regard the war as a calamity for Russia," and certain relatives of the emperor, it is further stated, are "endeavoring to break the influence of the Russian commander-in-chief, Grand Duke Nicholas."

According to the writer of this letter, war against Germany was decided on when President Poincaré and Premier Viviani of France visited Petrograd last July, ten days before the war began. This decision was reached, it was said, after Count Benckendorff, Russian ambassador to Great Britain, and A. P. Iswolsky, Russian ambassador to France, had sent to the emperor favorable reports concerning the European political situation.

A LOGICAL DYSPEPSIA TREATMENT

IMPORTANCE OF ELIMINATING ACIDITY AND FOOD FERMENTATION

During the past two or three years reports have frequently appeared in the press concerning the remarkable value of bismuthated magnesia as an antidote and its ability to promote normal, healthy digestion by preventing food fermentation and neutralizing dangerous stomach acid has often been demonstrated. Until recently druggists could supply bismuthated magnesia in powder form only, from one to two teaspoonfuls of which, taken in a little water after meals, almost instantly stops all fermentation and neutralizes acids, but suffers from stomach trouble will be glad to learn that, after a long series of experiments, a leading firm of manufacturing druggists has now succeeded in producing a 5 grain tablet which combines all the valuable antacid properties of the ordinary bismuthated magnesia in a very convenient form. This new tablet of bismuthated magnesia can now be obtained of druggists everywhere and many physicians are already prescribing them instead of the powder form.

WORK OF LEOPOLD COUNTED

HIS FORESIGHT PLACED BELGIUM IN GOOD CON- DITION FOR WAR

(By Associated Press Cable.)

London, Jan. 21.—The late King Leopold's personal influence had a great deal to do with the state of preparedness which enabled Belgium to enter the war, according to an article written by some of the Belgian officials connected with the relief work here. It reads:

"King Leopold, uncle of the present King Albert, was an enthusiastic advocate of military defense works, and his personal ideas were largely developed in the fortresses of Antwerp, Huy, and Namur. But he met with much opposition in his efforts to spend large sums for war purposes, and he feared that with his death many of his projects would be rejected."

"When the king was on his deathbed, a most important military bill, which he had labored for years to bring before the parliament, came up in the lower house for discussion and was passed. Its fate in the senate was in doubt however."

"The king summoned his physician, and asked abruptly, 'How long have I to live?'"

"The physician, upset by such a question, stammered a few words of protest."

"I am not asking for fine words, interrupted the king. 'I am speaking now not as your patient but as your king. It is a matter of state. How many hours have I left?'"

"Sire, the end may come early tomorrow although there still is hope."

"Send the premier to me."

"The premier came, and the king said to him: 'Sire, I am delighted that the chamber has passed the military law, for as you know, I am convinced that on that law depends the maintenance of the independence of our country. I now ask you to take the bill to the senate today, and to tell the senators that it is my wish to see it made into law before I die. It must be done quickly.'"

"On the same day the bill was adopted unanimously and without discussion by the senate. King Leopold signed it at eight o'clock and on the following morning breathed his last."

TO FIGHT FOR RURAL CREDITS

DEMOCRATS WILL TRY TO PASS MEASURE AT PRES- ENT SESSION

Washington, Jan. 21.—Although there may be no opportunity to enact legislation for the improvement of rural credits by the time congress adjourns March 4, Democrats of the senate resumed activity today on this subject, with a view to reporting a bill in the near future.

In accordance with action of the Democratic caucus Monday night in declaring it the sense of senate Democrats that a rural credits system bill should be passed at the earliest practicable date, a meeting of the Banking and Currency committee was called today by Chairman Owen.

The committee will meet tomorrow to take up particularly the bill known in the senate as the Hollis Bill, which was framed by the joint banking and currency subcommittee of the senate and house last summer.

Some leading Democrats insisted to day that an extra session of congress could not be avoided now. Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia openly declared that an extra session in the spring or summer was 'absolutely certain.' Believing this to be the case, some of the Democrats argue that there is no necessity for immediate action upon appropriation bills and are urging that rural credits legislation be taken up before March 4. This plan will be urged at a party caucus in the near future.

President Wilson suggested, in his annual message, that there would not be time for rural credits legislation at this session. The President told callers today that it was his understanding that the senate Democrats did not mean to infer that rural credits bill should be rushed through at this time.

The Hollis Bill would establish a rural credits system under general control of the Federal Reserve Board.

Ex-Secretary Knox's Son and Wife Have Had Trouble

Mrs. May G. Knox, wife of Philander C. Knox, Jr., the shopgirl who surprised the family of the former secretary of state and others when she married the young son four years ago, left her home and went to New York, where there were reports that she would sue her husband. However, her lawyer said that she did not contemplate legal action. He did not know the cause of the disagreement, but was certain it would not get into the courts. Their home for some time has been at Charleston, West Va.

Previous to their marriage four years ago Mrs. Knox who was Miss May G. Holler, had been a salesgirl in a department store at Providence, R. I. Knox is twenty-six years old and has been employed by a newspaper at Charleston. According to the statement of friends of Mrs. Knox she and her husband made their home for some time with his parents, and though treated most kindly by them, she was annoyed because he did not make provision for a home of their own.
